The Role of Artificial Intelligence and Automation Poems by Amari Singleton

Feeding off Media

Hungry and bored
Need for release
Tiktok, Instagram, and snapchat
Need to check my feed

Never needing fresh air
Trapped inside my phone
No need to talk to family
I'd rather be alone

Never been so full with details
Mind compacted with information
Cod, 2k, Fortnite with my friends
Time to hop on the playstation

Google knows me best
It knows everything about me
Never getting enough privacy
Always asks about 'Allowing"

Money, power, electricity in the making
Pockets feeling empty, companies in the waking
Many trees going to waste, oil in the water
Who cares about the earth, who's looking for our father

Who cares about the world, what's new on my phone
Hey siri what's the time, kids keep acting grown
No time spent in the sandbox, no time swinging on the swing
Just more scrolling on tiktok, waiting for the phone to ring